That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt by the testimony of the civilized world.

Miss Hapgood tells how she escaped an awful operation by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for four years with what the doctors called Salpingitis (inflammation of the fallopian tubes and ovaries), which is a most distressing and painful ailment, affecting all the surrounding parts, undermining the constitution, and sapping the life forces. If you had seen me a year ago, before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and had noticed the sunken eyes, sallow complexion, and general enervated condition, and compared that person with me as I am today, robust, hearty and well, you would not wonder that I feel thankful to you and your wonderful medicine, which restored me to new life and health in five months, and saved me from an awful operation."—Miss Irene Hapgood, 1023 Sandwich St. Windsor, Ont.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced, enclosed.

Ovaritis or inflammation of the ovaries or fallopian tubes which adjoin the ovaries may result from sudden stopping of the monthly flow, from inflammation of the womb, and many other causes. The slightest indication of trouble with the ovaries, indicated by dull throbbing pain in the side, accompanied by heat and shooting pains, should claim your instant attention. It will not cure itself, and a hospital operation, with all its terrors, may easily result from neglect.

NOTES HERE AND THERE

It takes mail at least seven days to go from Chicago to London.

San Francisco is thinking of having a world's fair on the completion of the Panama canal.

The skeletons of four men who mysteriously disappeared there, between two days, 20 years ago, have been discovered in an old water hole near Quartzite, Ariz. They were on their way to California and no doubt were murdered for their money.

Eastern capitalists have bought three of the heaviest timbered canyons in the Rockies near Colorado Springs, Col., with the purpose of making a great game preserve. More than 300 head of elk have already been purchased. It is reported that the principal stock will be elk, deer and antelope.

A curious effect of the war in the far east is the migration of sharks to European waters. The submarine explosions are supposed to have frightened the creatures, which have passed through the Suez canal, and have been making havoc among the fishes of the Adriatic. Invasion of the Black sea even has been feared.

The forestry department of the United States government has three expert men in the field at Colorado Springs, Col. Close to the city they have established nurseries and they have collected and planted the seeds which with growth will replace the fallen and burned timber on Pike's Peak and the adjacent range of the Rockies. The work may cover a period of 20 years, and it is estimated the expenditure will approximate $2,500,000.

Mexico is credited with being at the head of the Latin-American countries in the matter of letters. Besides possessing the oldest organs of Spanish-American journalism, it is said to have in active existence the first library established in America, which is now at least 300 years old. In Chile, Argentina and Peru there are papers that have been published for 50 years and more. One is the El Comercio, of Lima, which has had a career of 60 years of uninterrupted daily issue.

FOREIGN CELEBRITIES.

Alfred De Rothschild, one of the famous banking family, has a private circus at his country seat, Hailton House, England. The ring, about 100 yards in diameter, is surrounded by trees.

Eminent German professors are becoming proverbial for their longevity. The latest to celebrate his seventieth birthday is Ewald Hering, of the German university at Prague. Like Heilmoltz, Brucke, Dubois, Fechner and others, he has done original work in several branches of science, but perhaps his most important discoveries relate to the physiology of memory.

On Lord Kitchener's recent tour in the interior of the Simla hills he received an address of welcome from the rajah of Bashahr, who assured him that the songs of your excellency's stainless glory, of the sincere, impartial and honest acts of the late Transvaal war (which are the real ornaments of the honorable officers of your excellency's position), are cheerfully sung by the heavenly nymphs in Paradise.

William Evans, formerly protector of Chinese in the Straits Settlements, who was induced by the British government to go to South Africa to superintend the arrangements connected with the importation and the housing of the Chinese in South Africa, has refused to remain there. He said he would never consent to be a slave driver, and that the conditions under which the Chinese worked in South Africa were indescribable.

The late Sir William Vernon Harcourt, though an ardent fighter, was one of the most forgiving and kind-hearted men. On one occasion, years ago, T. P. O'Connor asked him in the house of commons regarding the size of cells in convict prisons. Sir William said he desired information with such exactness as to suggest a laugh in the house, but cheerfully followed when the head of the same office quietly explained that he had considered it his duty to visit several cells, so as to know by personal knowledge how the unfortunate beings who were condemned to dwell there were accustomed to fare.

COMPLETELY CURED.

Mrs. P. Brunzel, wife of P. Brunzel, stock dealer, residence 1111 G Street, Ave., Everett, Wash., says: "For fifteen years I suffered with terrible pain in my back. I did not know what it was to enjoy a night's rest and to go to bed in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed. My suffering sometimes was simply indescribable. When I finished the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills I felt like a different woman. I continued until I had taken five boxes. Doan's Kidney Pills acted very effectively, very promptly, relieve the aching pains and all other annoying difficulties."

The Warfare With Self

Sermon by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(Copyright, 1904, by J. M. Edson.)

Chicago, Sunday, Dec. 11, 1904.

Text:—"Walk by the Spirit and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that ye may not do the things that ye would."—Gal. 5:16-17.

E have here the setting of a war drama. The opposing forces are seen drawn up in order for the battle. The sound of conflict is heard, and now one side and then the other is seen to yield. Uncertain is the issue and back and forth the strife is waged. Such is the picture which Paul draws in our text. The flesh warring against the Spirit and the Spirit against the flesh. The one at eternal enmity with the other. It is the inner conflict, the place where the most desperate warfare is waged. The flesh is bitterly and relentlessly carried on. The heart is the battleground. The flesh, the physical life, with all its natural desires and tendencies, is on one side with Self enthroned as ruler and captain. The Soul, with its capacity for God, is on the other with the Spirit enlisted as its captain. Between these two, the Self and the Soul, there are irreconcilable differences, for the one is contrary to the other. If Self rules supreme, the Soul suffers. If the Soul is to gain the supremacy, it must do so at the sacrifice of Self and the flesh. There cannot be any compromise, no alliance, no truce between the two. It must be conflict from start to finish. If the Soul is to develop and grow in the grace and knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. In the seventh chapter of Romans we see Paul waging the bitter warfare, and crying out as the powerful enemy, Self, deals hard blows and wins victory over the Soul. Oh, wretched man, that I am! Who shall deliver me out of the body of this death?" But the victory comes as he learns to fight in Christ's strength, and to abide in His presence, for He exclaims, in answer to the question he has just propounded: "I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then we have for our consolation, that I am not alone in this work. The Soul enslaved; second, the Soul's awakening; third, the Soul's enemy revealed; fourth, the conflict; and fifth, victory and its reward."

SELF Enthroned.—The natural man wants a king to rule over his life who will please and gratify the desires, the aspirations, the tendencies of the flesh. Man naturally covets freedom of action in all that pertains to this life. He wants no restrictions thrown about his life which will restrict his intercourse with the world, or indulgence in the pleasures, luxuries and ambitions of life. This desire of Self to rule manifested itself in the very beginning when Adam and Eve reached forth the hand and took of the fruit of the forbidden tree, and Self ever since that fateful day has aspired to kingship over the life and has struggled to maintain its sovereignty. The natural man has but one king, and that is Self, and the Soul is kept in bondage. He is given liberties only which will not endanger Self or restrict him in the realization and enjoyment of that which he desires. Self is a materialist. He refuses to believe anything except that which he can see, feel and handle. He centers his joys and hopes and desires in this life, and bids the Soul join in the "eating, drinking and the merrymaking, for tomorrow we die." Self is willing to concede everything else but the throne to the Soul. If it may but reign supreme over the life, he is willing to surrender his longings and aspirations of the Soul. Self is a clever diplomat and he negotiates terms and dictates policies which seem to meet the higher demands of the Soul, but which do not in any way imperil Self's dominion over the life. Self wants to rule and Self does rule in some degree or another, unless the Soul has been aroused to a sense of its rights, and its possibilities in Christ Jesus.

THE Soul's Awakening.—Every man has within himself, in the inner self which is called the Soul, a capacity for God. The multitude of religions which claim their followers throughout the world, from the remote regions where savagery reigns to the lands where civilization has wrought her highest art, attest the fact that man is seeking after something to gratify and satisfy the yearning of the Soul. But capacity for God is not possession of God. Because I feel towards God, does not prove that I have God as an inner and satisfying portion. The Soul is kept in the dark even while it is longing for something which it has not. The Spirit of God is striving with him, trying to lead him to the light. The promise of Jesus is that "when He the Spirit of truth is come, He shall guide you into all the truth. He will convict the world in respect of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." The Spirit is the voice of God in the Soul seeking to turn man to God and make him throw off the yoke of Self. My friend, you have heard God's message; down deep in your heart you know that God wants you to surrender Self and let the Soul expand under the possession of God. But you will not! The convicting word of God's Spirit has been felt. You know what you ought to do, but Self argues with you. He draws before you a picture of all you will have to give up. He uses all the somber and dark hues he can find. He tries to so distort and twist the truth that you will turn from the voice of God and the pleading of the Soul. Self fears in the presence of God. He wants not that God should rule over your life. He himself wants to be its only master. And how long is the struggle sometimes! How grievous is the process before man will yield and receive God's gift of eternal life. Dear friend, of Christ, fight no longer against God. Let God's work of grace be wrought in you! Let your Soul be awakened by the touch of the Spirit!

THE Soul's Enemy Revealed.—The dweller in the valley has a narrow vision. He can see the familiar objects which surround his dwelling, but he cannot take in the extent of verdant fields and woodland which stretch off in the distance. He is too nearly on a level with that which he wishes to see. But let him clamber up the mountain side and he gains a vantage point way up above the fruitful and beautiful valley, and behold the whole scene is spread out before him like a great panorama. So it is with man. From man's level let him view man and his vision is limited. He can see man only in his nearer aspect. He cannot see him as God does. But let him rise on the wings of the quickened soul to the mountain top of God's presence, and he will then find a new picture spreading itself before him. If he has been said that man's greatest enemy is Self. But how few really realize or believe it. And yet it is true, and it is terms and conditions which he eyes and opens them so that he may see clearly, he will realize that the natural man is at enmity with God. He will begin to understand what is implied in our text when it says: "For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that ye may not do the things that ye would." The Soul, it cannot be expected that man will seek to bring it into subjection. This is the reason so many Christians live on such a low sensual plane. This is the reason why they argue themselves into the belief that many worldly pleasures and indulgences are right. They have not yet sighted the enemy. They have not yet let God reveal to them that the thing that must be overcome first is the natural man and the desires of the flesh.

THE Conflict.—It is the duty of an army when at war to discover the enemy, and when discovered to engage the foe in battle. To refuse to give battle is traitorous and invites disaster. It means that the foe will dictate terms and conditions. The Soul enslaved; second, the Soul's awakening; third, the Soul's enemy revealed; fourth, the conflict; and fifth, victory and its reward.

THE Victory and Reward.—The secret of victory is revealed in the opening words of our text. The declaration that the "flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh," is preceded by the wise admonition to "Walk in the Spirit," followed by the blessed assurance that if we do, we "shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh." The Secret is to look to the Spirit for leadership, instead of Self. One of the essentials to a victorious army is the wise general who knows how to lead his army so as to avoid all the ambushes and pitfalls of the enemy, and to select the vantage ground from which to give battle. The Spirit will lead and guide him, he knows the pitfalls, the dangers which lurk on every hand, and it is only as the Christian seeks to walk in the Spirit that he can hope to escape disaster and defeat. The victory is more than half won when we are marching obediently by the side of our Saviour. When we go our own way, when temptation leads us into the byways of sinful desire, then are we almost sure to fall before the enemy. We become an easy prey to the desires of the flesh. Self has his way, and the Soul is brought into subjection. But ours may be victory, if we will "walk in the Spirit." If we "through the Spirit will mortify the deeds of the body." And the reward is worth the conflict. The seven-fold reward may be ours as promised in the second and third chapters of Revelation, ending in the grand climax: "He that overcometh I will give to him to sit down with Me in My throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with My Father in His Throne."

STRONG MAN UNDEVELOPED

Extraordinary Case Exciting Interest and Amusement Among London Physicians.

London physicians are interested in a singular case of a man who possesses extraordinary strength, yet has no muscular development. The man, a German, Herr Georg Lett, is only 5 feet in height and weighs but 140 pounds, but he can lift something like 25 times his own weight.

The world's record lift is 1,100 pounds, yet Herr Lett lifted an anchor weighing 850 pounds, with four men standing on it, thus exceeding the record by about 450 pounds. He can pull backward a 16-horse power motor car running at a speed of 35 miles per hour, and standing between two eight-horse power cars placed back to back, he holds them together by sheer strength of finger tips when their engines are working at full speed.

"GIMLETS" BORED THEM.

Book of Conceited Author Lacked Popularity with the Reading Public.

"Though Robert W. Chambers is a popular author, he will rarely talk about his books, says a literary exchange. 'I hate literary conceit,' he said the other day. 'If an architect builds a good house, his friends, on account of it, don't regard him as a god, and he doesn't regard himself as a god. The same with an engineer. If he builds a good bridge it is in the day's work, and that is all there is about it. But if a man writes a good book, why, then there must be genius in him, and before this genius he himself, as well as all the world, must bow down. Rot.'

"Literary conceit is distasteful to me," Mr. Chambers said, "and I like to see it taken down. It was well taken down in the case of a New York man recently. He has written a novel, 'Gimlets,' and the public libraries have put this book on their shelves. The man called at one of the libraries to find out how his work was going with the public. He hoped to have his vanity tickled a little. 'Is 'Gimlets' in?' he said to the librarian. 'It never was out,' was the reply."

TOO GREAT A RESEMBLANCE

Portrait So Like the Original That It Lacked Charitable Expression.

Bishop Olmsted, of Denver, is interested in the art of painting, and obtains many generous contributions on their behalf from rich Episcopalians, says the New York Tribune.

There is in Denver, however, a millionaire who will rarely consent to help Bishop Olmsted's pet project. He is a generous man, and in his own way he assists the poor, but to organized charity, for some reason, he nearly objects. The bishop, often, asks him for subscriptions, but these requests are almost invariably refused.

Recently the millionaire had his portrait painted. Bishop Olmsted met him the other day and said: "This morning your admirable portrait."

"And did you ask it for a subscription?" said the millionaire, smiling.

"No," said Bishop Olmsted. "I saw there was no use—it was so like you."

Reads Like a Miracle.

Moravia, N. Y., Dec. 12th. (Special)—Boredom on the marvellous is the case of Mrs. Benj. Wilson, of this place. Suffering from Sugar Diabetes, she wasted away till from weighing 200 lbs. she barely tipped the scales at 130 lbs. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Speaking of her cure, her husband says:

"My wife suffered everything from Sugar Diabetes. She was sick four years and doctored with two doctors, but received no benefit. She had so much pain all over her that she could not rest day or night. The doctor said that she could not live."

"Then an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped her right from the first. Five boxes of them cured her. Dodd's Kidney Pills were a God-Sent remedy to us and we recommend them to all suffering from Kidney Disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases, including Bright's Disease, and all kidney aches, including Rheumatism.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing. She was also passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life."

"In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Pe-ru-na and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her."

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of twenty-five years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Pe-ru-na according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me. Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more."—John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Pe-ru-na:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Pe-ru-na. I am still cured of catarrh."—John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.
